Job Summary

Northumbria has enjoyed an excellent reputation in training in recent years. We were top nationally in overall satisfaction last year, second in the region this year, and rated top trust in the region among higher trainees on the Training Post Assessment. We have several former Trainers of the Year, the current TPD and one former, the T&O rotation organiser, and a former SAC member and current FRCS Examiner.

Our training posts are undergoing change following the opening of Northumbria Specialist Emergency Care Hospital, with shift pattern working. However, the focus remains on quality training and early trainee feedback has been positive. We have always endeavoured to maximise training opportunities, and respond rapidly to trainee feedback. We are therefore looking to integrate some posts so as to maximise operative exposure and minimise impact of consultant and trainee trauma commitments on elective operating. Our aim is to ensure that a post with us will allow trainees to gain the requisite indicative numbers in that specialty in the six months with us, as far as possible.

At present please choose from the listed consultant posts as previously – however, we plan to allow you additional elective specialty time when you are free of commitments with your primary consultant.
